Land Board Members:

Subject: Issuance of Forest Reserve System Special Use Permit No. FW-2010-K-03 to Genera Texeira for Residence, Pasture and Cleanup Purposes, Waimea, Kauai, Tax Map Key: (4) 1-5-01: portion 01.

Background: On October 9, 2007, Governor Linda Lingle signed Executive Order No. 4292 setting aside approximately 9,216 acres to the Division of forestry & Wildlife for addition to Puu Ka Pele Forest Reserve at Waimea, Kauai. Included within this area were 5.0 acres under Land Division Revocable Permit No. S-6510 to Genera Texeira for residence and pasture purposes.

During the 2009 annual renewal of Land Divisions' revocable permits, the Kauai staff discovered that Revocable Permit S-6510 should have been canceled in 2007, but that it had been mistakenly renewed through December 31, 2009. A termination notification letter was sent by Land Division to the tenant dated October 12, 2009.

At its meeting of October 23, 2009, under agenda Item D-9, the Land Board approved and amended staff's recommendation to continue Land Divisions month-to-month revocable permits and approved no change in the current monthly rent (Exhibit B). Revocable Permit No. S-6510 was not on that renewal list.

Mr. John Texeira subsequently contacted the Kauai Land Division office, requesting to stay on the property. He was referred to the Division of Forestry & Wildlife (DOFAW). On December 2, 2009, Mr. Alvin Kyono and Mr. Tommy Oi conducted an inspection of the subject property, where Mr. Texeira was informed that continued long-term tenancy of the permit area was not consistent with the purposes of the Forest Reserve System. Mr. Texeira then requested six (6) months to clean-up the debris. The Division is agreeable to granting Mr. Texeira six (6) months, from January 1, 2010 to June 30, 2010, to provide the permittee additional time clean up and vacate the permit area which permittee has occupied since 1987.

Discussion: The Permittee's insurance coverage expired on May 20, 2009. As of this writing, the Permittee has not posted renewed liability insurance coverage and has not paid December 2009 rent.

Staff has no objection to granting six (6) months, provided the Permittee comes into compliance by paying rent for December 2009 and January 2010, and submitting proof of liability insurance in an amount of at least $1,000,000.00 for each occurrence and $2,000,000.00 aggregate and naming the State of Hawaii as additional insured. Furthermore, the Forest Reserve System Special Use Permit to be issued would include a clause compelling the Permittee to be responsible for site cleanup work, and should the Permittee fail to adequately do so, the Division shall arrange for site cleanup work and bill the Permittee for said work.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

That the Board of Land and Natural Resources:

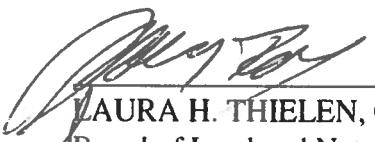

1. Approve issuance of Forest Reserve System Special Use Permit No. FW-2010-K-03 to Genera Texeira for residence, pasture and cleanup purposes, Waimea, Kauai, Tax Map Key: (4) 1-5-01: portion 01, for a period of six (6) months only, from January 1, 2010 to June 30, 2010.
2. Approve no change in the current monthly rent of $110.00
3. Condition this approval on the submission of rent due to date and adequate proof of liability insurance coverage by the Permittee within one (1) week from Land Board approval. If rent and liability insurance coverage are not submitted within the specified time, Revocable Permit No. S-6510 is terminated as of December 31, 2009 and no subsequent Forest Reserve Special Use Permit shall be issued.
4. Such other terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Chairperson to best serve the interests of the State.

Respectfully Submitted,

Statewide

Annual Renewal of Revocable Permits on the Islands of Hawaii, Maui, Molokai, Kauai and Oahu

BACKGROUND:

On October 24, 2008, under agenda item D-1, the Board approved, as amended, the continuation of the revocable permits listed in Exhibit A, on a month-to-month basis for another one-year period up to December 31, 2009, except for permits that are in arrears of rental payment for more than 60 days and/or have been approved for forfeiture by a separate Board action. With the amended Board Action, the Board also approved no change in the rents for permits under the Commercial, Industrial or Baseyard/Storage category, to reflect the downturn in the economy and resulting drop in values and rents.

Previously, on April 22, 2005, the Land Board, under agenda item D-17, approved methodologies to review rents of revocable permits for future years. The Land Board was presented with a variety of alternative methodologies by which to review the revocable permits statewide. In summary, Method 1 involved sampling at least 10% of each type of RP on each island. Method 2 involved conducting individual appraisals, if necessary, of each permit. Method 3 considered the use of the Consumer Price Index to apply adjustments to the rent. Method 4 involved interviews and research. Method 5 considered a periodic scheduled review based on the permit type or use. Staff then evaluated each methodology, as shown below from an excerpt from the Board submittal on April 22, 2005, agenda item D-17, and recommended the Board approve a blend of various methods specific to each appraisal type, for the reasons repeated below.

EVALUATION OF ALTERNATIVES

Staff believes Methods 1 and 2 are time consuming and should only be considered where necessary. These methods require substantial staff resources for research, analysis, and possibly travel. Currently, the Appraisal Section is comprised of one staff appraiser. Method 3, using the indices, would not address rural and outer island properties appropriately. The CPI and most other indices focus on large metropolitan areas and may not accurately reflect changes in land values.

Method 4 is both a feasible and reasonable alternative among those discussed above for reviewing rent for commercial, industrial and residential-type permits. Since these types of permits are most likely to be affected by changes in the real estate market and economy, this method adequately tracks recent trends in rents. Discussions with local real estate experts such as brokers, property managers, appraisers, and consultants is considered the best way to gain insight and knowledge of local real estate trends. Most major brokerages are fairly active in these real estate segments and would have the market data required for making fairly accurate adjustments to permit rents.

EXHIBIT "B"

Method 5 makes the most sense for the review of agricultural, pasture, and landscaping-type permits. Because these types of permit rents appear to be relatively stable and less influenced by market fluctuations, staff feels a predetermined schedule of review based on the nature of these permits, in conjunction with Methods 3 and/or Method 4, is appropriate. This would allow staff to dedicate resources to other appraisal needs such as new dispositions and lease reopenings. Since most long-term ground leases contain step-ups or reopenings every ten years, staff recommends that access/utility, parking, community and government, landscaping and recreation permits similarly should be reviewed every 10 years. Past history has shown that agriculture and pasture rents have not been very volatile. Farm price of beef, which has been relatively stable, is more of an influence on pasture rents. Therefore, staff feels periodic review every five years is appropriate for agriculture and pasture permits.

Fee simple residential values have been growing in recent years, however the leasehold market has remained relatively stable. Discussions with appraisers and real estate brokers have indicated that with the influx of fee home and condo construction on the upswing, market participants would still look favorably upon a fee purchase before considering leasehold property. Residential RP's are considered leasehold because the tenants occupy state land. Therefore, staff feels periodic reviews every five years for residential permits is appropriate.

Proposed Methodology

The methodologies summarized below were approved by the Land Board on April 22, 2005, under agenda item D-17, in reviewing RP rents:

Permit Type	Methodology	Reason	Next Scheduled Review
Access/utility easements, Parking	Methods 4 and 5 – Review RP rents once every 10 years, utilizing market interviews and research to arrive at percentage adjustments, if any.	Permit rents stable.	1/1/2015
Agricultural and Pasture	Methods 4 and 5 - Review RP rents once every 5 years, utilizing market interviews and research to arrive at percentage adjustments, if any.	Permit rents fairly stable. Cost/benefit ratio justifies.	1/1/2010
Baseyard/Storage; Commercial; Industrial	Methods 3 and 4 – Review RP rents each year based on a review of market indices, interviews and research to arrive at percentage adjustments, if any.	Detailed, annual market research will ensure rents will reflect market.	Annually
Community; Government	Methods 4 and 5 – Review RP rents once every 10 years, utilizing market interviews and research to arrive at percentage adjustments, if any.	Permit rents stable.	1/1/2015
Landscaping; Recreational	Methods 4 and 5 – Review RP rents once every 10 years, utilizing market interviews and research to arrive at percentage adjustments, if any.	Permit rents stable. Cost/benefit ratio justifies.	1/1/2015
Residential	Methods 3, 4 and 5 – Review RP rents every 5 years based on a review of market indices, interviews, and	Timely adjustments to rents will track closely to market.	1/1/2010 research to determine whether adjustments are warranted.

The Staff Appraiser should have the discretion to account for specific circumstances and to make adjustments (which will be explained in the appraisals).

In conformance with the Board action on April 22, 2005, staff will focus on the current real estate market trends affecting the commercial and industrial revocable permits, statewide, which are reviewed annually. This is also the year where the agricultural, pasture and residential permits are also reviewed. The other categories are to be reviewed per the recommended schedule as summarized above. Therefore, for the remaining permits not classified as commercial, industrial, or baseyard/storage, agriculture, pasture and residential, staff is recommending no changes to those permit rents at this time.

RESEARCH:

While conducting staff review of commercial and industrial permit rent, interviews with real estate professionals and research of available market studies were conducted. The trends, which were apparent from last year's research, appear to be tapering as the economy has slowed. An assortment of real estate participants were surveyed to gain insight into market rent trends in the commercial and industrial sectors. Market reports on the industrial, office, and retail markets were also researched.

Industrial Sector

Market reports and to local real estate appraisers have indicated the industrial market is in a state of contraction. On Oahu, vacancies have risen from 4.36% to 5.13% from the end of last year to midyear 2009. The market experienced 293,572 sq. ft. of negative absorption in the first quarter of 2009 alone according to a report by Colliers Monroe Friedlander. The recession and resulting stagnation of the construction, distribution, production and manufacturing sectors has resulted in increased unemployment. This is in stark contrast to the last several years where vacancies were around 2% and rents were escalating, peaking in 2007 at around $1.31 per sq. ft. per month. Current asking rents of $1.15 reflect a 12.21% decrease from the peak rent established at the end of 2007. The number of available listings is also on the rise as days on market (DOM) have escalated. Financing has become a major obstacle for many owner-users and investors. The credit crunch has also affected the number of land transactions over the past year as market participants find it difficult to secure financing. Colliers reports land values have decreased by 5% to 8% since mid-year 2008.

The forecast is for continued weakening of the economy. Colliers reports construction, retail, home sales, and tourism sectors all show continued softening. The industrial sector is predicted to remain volatile as uncertainty remains in the construction industry. Several projects have been deferred or cancelled. Vacancy rates are on the rise as companies downsize or shut down and additional industrial space inventory planned in the last couple years comes online. The declines in most sectors in the construction industry also contribute to the general decline in industrial space users.

Reports from various professionals on the neighbor islands also indicate a stagnant economy from a drop in tourism, hotel layoffs and contraction in the business sector. A Hilo based appraiser has indicated vacancies are increasing in the industrial market. Sales and leasing have really slowed, making it harder to predict any trends. Overall, Big Island is reporting sluggish activity in the industrial sectors.

Staff on Maui has indicated that base yard space is available but limited. There are some industrial lots for sale though. An appraiser based on Maui indicates land values beginning to stabilize or decline after years of growth. He indicates this is due primarily from a slow down of the visitor industry, real estate and construction market downturns, and volatile financial sectors. Commercial vacancies are on the rise due to real estate and mortgage companies are vacating their spaces for smaller space or shutting down. Industrial vacancies are also increasing due to closing of smaller sub-contractors and service companies. There are very few new large construction projects scheduled.

A Kauai appraiser has reported increased vacancies in both the commercial and industrial markets. As construction slows, industrial space vacancies increase as contractors downsize or leave for green pastures. He also reports that residential properties have taken a hit with condo values down 25% from last year and single family down around 15%. Agricultural lands are also flat but not a lot of data to go on. There are more restrictions on the leasing of agricultural CPR's as vacation rentals and thus limiting market appeal.

Research indicates industrial land values are maintaining value in some sectors close to town but declining in other areas. Estimates are that industrial land values have dropped between 5% and 8% across the board in the last year. However, space rents are declining as vacancies increase. Therefore, staff proposes no change in rent for all permits related to industrial and baseyard/storage purposes.

Commercial Sector

According to various market reports such as Colliers, retail and office rents, after four or five years of consistent growth, appeared to have stabilized last year and are still stable or declining some. As rents have recently declined, CAM costs have risen over the last five years. Oahu asking rents fell for the first time in over six years from $3.72 per sq. ft. per month to $3.52 per sq. ft. per month.

The decrease in rents may be due to an increase in vacancy from 3.23% to 3.98% as the market experienced over 74,000 sq. ft. of lost occupancy on Oahu. Contributing to the lost occupancy include the closure of some high profile eateries such as E&O Trading Co., Nick's Fishmarket, Compadres, Chowder House and Brew Moon. Starbucks recently shuttered five locations statewide. Longtime local jewelers Hallmark within the last few months and more recently Elite Electronics, a home and automotive electronics retailer, has closed. Huckleberry Farms, a natural and health food market, announced plans to close at the end of October and news of the Niketown closure was bad news for the King Kalakaua Plaza in Waikiki. Only value oriented stores like Wal-Mart, Target, Costco, Walgreens, Longs-CVS and Safeway are likely to benefit as consumers look to economize.

A mid year Colliers report indicates the office market continues to weaken. The Oahu market experienced negative absorption of 122,300 sq. ft. of space in the second quarter of this year alone, bringing the year-to date net absorption to negative 209,850 sq. ft. The office sector vacancy has been single digits for the last five years but stands at 10.15% as of mid-year 2009. At the same time, asking rents have remained relatively stable with a slight decline from last year. Average net rents have decreased from $1.70 per sq. ft. per month to $1.68 per sq. ft. per month.

The office market is somewhat more insulated from economic volatility compared to the industrial and retail sectors. Thus, as residential real estate slows down, tourism stagnates, and construction tapers off, the office market will be affected more as a trickle down effect but will recover after the industrial and retail markets.

The neighbor islands are reporting similar conditions. Increased office and retail vacancies on Maui are an indicator of a contraction in real estate and mortgage related businesses along with consumer spending. Apparently the vacancy rate is still on the rise. Along with the slowing tourism and construction industries, more space is on the market with longer marketing times. Commercial land values are also reportedly declining as demand weakens.

The Big Island is also reporting a downturn with layoffs at some major resort hotels and other business. This is likely caused by a drop in visitor counts from decreased cruise ship business and airline arrivals. Sales of commercial properties are slowing and days on market are significantly longer, possibly up to a year. There is a significant increase in supply of properties for sale and lease on the commercial sector. An appraiser has indicated that resort oriented retail properties are experiencing increased vacancy due to a reduction in cruise ship traffic and other drops in visitors counts.

On Kauai, commercial space rents are feeling the pinch with more space available this year than in the past few years. Retail in resort areas are also experiencing increased vacancy rates. A recent article in the Star Bulletin, as quoted from noted economist Leroy Laney, indicates Kauai will see its largest contraction in jobs since Hurricane Iniki in 1992. The article also states Kauai has experienced the biggest drop in visitor arrivals of any island. Work has stopped at Kauai Lagoons and the Ritz Carlton Residences due to financial problems. The Garden Island news, Kauai's daily, indicates foreclosures have skyrocketed over the past year. Lower visitor counts are also impacting the economy there causing a ripple effect. Retail spaces in resort areas are particularly struggling with the drop in tourism and visitor spending.

Research indicates office rents are flat and increases are primarily from increased operating expense pass through to tenants. The retail sector appears to maintaining growth from new product coming online or the occupancy of recently vacated space. Rents are stable but operating expenses are increasing. Similar to industrial and baseyard permits, staff proposes no change in rent for all permits related to commercial use.

Residential

An Oahu report by Prudential Locations for the rolling period March to May 2009 indicate sales are down almost 25% for single family homes and over 31% for condos compared to the same period last year. Median prices for singe-family homes have dropped 10.2% and condos have dropped 6.2% during the same three-month period in comparison to last year.

On the Big Island, single-family home and condo values are decreasing at approximately 1% to 2% in most of the Big Island markets.

A Kauai appraiser indicates that values and sales are down across the board in single-family home sales and condominiums. The economy there is struggling due to decreases in tourism and visitor spending. Reports are that condo values are down 25% since February or March and single-family home values are down about 15%. Some of the drop is likely related to difficulties in obtaining financing.

On Maui, reports are that foreclosures are up significantly. Affordable housing is not readily available, but there is some still some demand for housing. Some reports are mixed as one report indicates moderate prices homes are stable but the high-end market has been impacted by the economy. Other reports indicate a sharp decline in residential values across the board.

Regarding RP S-6770 to William Conner, Maui staff has requested the rent for this permit be reviewed and research indicates his current rent is under market at $298 per month. Staff has indicated the improvements are owned by the State. A Maui appraiser researched this property and indicates market rent is between $750 and $900 per month. In consideration of the location and the month-to-month nature of the permit, staff concludes market rent at $750 per month.

Agriculture

An inspection of recent agricultural reopenings has indicated rents are holding steady or moderately increasing on Oahu. Some rents, which have increased, is due to the elapsed time of a typical 10-year period and some weighted average increase of land value the past decade. However, with the current economic conditions, value increases in recent months are apparently flat. Agricultural values also correlate with commodity prices of crops and livestock. Research from the latest statistics from the Department of Agriculture Annual Report 2008 indicates crop and livestock values are relatively stable.

On the Big Island, staff reports ranchers and farmers are struggling with the cost of commodities and transportation costs. The lack of sales activity in the agricultural markets makes it difficult to pin down values.

On Maui, staff reports that ag lands for lease are in short supply. Though there is a good supply of ag land available, staff opinion indicates some landowners are land banking until they can get entitlements.

Kauai has tightened up restrictions on lands in ag dedication. Owners and developers can no longer use ag CPR's as vacation rentals unless they were grandfathered in before the CZO rules were enacted in 1972. The enforcement of these rules has had some influence on ag values on this island.

RECOMMENDATION:

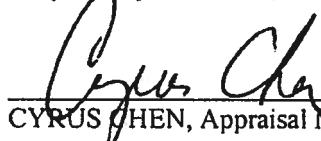

That the Board approves:

- A. Approve the continuation of the Revocable Permits listed in Exhibit A on a month-to-month basis for another one-year period through December 31, 2010, except for permits that are in arrears of rental payment for more than 60 days and/or have been approved for forfeiture by a separate Board action. Permits in arrears of rental for 60 days or more and/or approved by the Board for forfeiture shall not be renewed.
- B. Approve no change in current monthly rent through December 31, 2010 for Revocable Permits as listed in Exhibit A, provided however, that the Land Board reserves the right at any time to review and reestablish new rental charges for any Revocable Permit to reflect market conditions or the fair market rental for the rights and privileges granted by such Revocable Permit.

- C. Approve amended rent for RP S-6770 to William Connor to $750 per month.
